

Don Kalb

The late Don Kalb enters the Crawford County Sports Hall of Fame as a result of his achievements at both the high school and collegiate level. Don was a two-year letter winner at Wynford High School and a four-year starter at Capital University. Don was an outstanding basketball player.

During Don's junior and senior year at Wynford, Don led the North Central Conference in scoring with a 24.2 scoring average. Overall in 41 total games, he scored 903 points, and collected 526 rebounds. Because of these accomplishments, Don received multiple All-County, NCC Northwest District and All-Ohio honors. He was selected by WLWC-TV Channel 4 Columbus, to appear on the Fred Taylor Show as "Player of the Week" during his 19-4 senior season. He also lettered in track as a junior and senior. Don was inducted into the Wynford Athletic Hall of Fame in 2006.

Following his 1968 graduation, Don competed as a Capital University Crusader. He was a starter on teams that amassed a 75-21 record while winning two Ohio Athletic Conference titles and appearing in the NCAA Tournament in 1970. All-OAC honors were awarded three times as he accumulated 1,093 career points and 654 career rebounds. He was named First Team Lutheran All-American in 1970, and in 1972, he received the Outstanding Senior Athlete Award. Don was inducted into the Capital University Hall of Fame in 2002.
